DODGES HOLDUP THUGS DESPITE DEATH THREAT

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Threats of death had no terror for Alfred Luth of 460 Brennan street, who claims that an Mission street near Third, early this morning. Luth ran from the thugs whom he declared stopped him, found two policemen and brought about their arrest.

Luth was nearing the corner of Third street when the three men who had been following him, hurried up, surrounded him and demanded his money. One of them, he says, threatened to shoot him if he did not hand it over properly. Instead he dived under a police car and got away.

WAGES ARE RAISED.

DODGES IN UTAH VALLEY Dying, Poison Cause

(By Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—A poison, the nature of which is not known, probably is responsible for the large number of deaths of ducks in the Salt Lake valley. Utah, in the opinion of officials of the department of agriculture. They estimate the yearly losses are running up into many thousands of dollars.

The department experts at first were of the opinion that some bacterial disease was the cause of the enormous death rate among the ducks. They now express the belief that as the mortality is always greater after rain, it is possible some poison is washed in the duck feeding grounds from smelters located on streams nearby.

$160,000,000 New York Aqueduct Opened Today

(By Associated Press)
NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—After nine years of labor the last barrier was broken today in the Catskill aqueduct tube, the longest water tunnel in the world. It extends 111 miles, from the Ashokan dam at Esopus, New York, two years hence will supply New York with 500,000,000 gallons of water daily. It cost in dollars more than $160,000,000; in human lives, nearly 200.

WOULD TAX THE RICH AT NATION'S CAPITAL

(WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.)—Representative Borland of Missouri declares the District of Columbia is the paradise for millionaires. He says no Congressman can name a dozen such millionaires who have come to Washington to escape taxation or their wealth invested in securities. He has drafted a bill to be introduced Monday in the House, making it possible for the District authorities to impose the normal tax of 15 mills on the taxable wealth of all those claiming residence in Washington.

Such a tax would reach the heirs of Levi Leiter, Lars Anderson of Massachusetts, Miss George W. Pullman, Mrs. Marshall Field and Mrs. Robert Patterson of Chicago; Perry Belmont of New York, the late Mayor Ryburn of Philadelphia and many others.

NO SUNDAY WORK FOR "WOODMEN" EMPLOYEES

OMAHA, Neb., Jan. 10.—Several hundred employees at the headquarters of the Woodmen of the World today received a New Year's greeting from the new sovereign commander, W. A. Fraser, in the shape of an announcement that no clerk would hereafter be expected to put in any Sunday hours.

DOUGLASS MAY LOGATE AIR OF DEAD DENTIST

Letter to Mayor Ralph Discloses Possible Claimant to Big Estate.

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The relatives of John Joseph Ross, a prominent San Francisco dentist, 30 years ago, who died in 1911 in Guatemala leaving $100,000 estate, may be located as the result of a communication received by the mayor today. Ross died without relatives in South America and a firm of local attorneys have been engaged in searching for his kin in this country.

He married a Spanish woman in San Francisco prior to his leaving for South America where he amassed his huge fortune. Advertisements have been inserted in the papers in the country to appear as though there is a possibility of his relatives having been found at Tasker Station, Wayne county, Missouri.

The letter to Mayor Ralph, dated January 5, reads: "Enclosed find clippings from your city. I am interested in Al Ben F. Ross. He lives here and has been heavily co-operated of every loyal Republican; of every citizen whose bones of this state and the nation, who believes in honest, efficient, purposeful government for all the people, by all the people."

The Republican party is the proven party of prosperity of progress. It has never been otherwise. Because of popular carelessness unfit men have from time to time been able to use the Republican party for their improper and corrupt purposes. The party has ever been and ever will be prompt to turn against the affairs of government. Every reform in governmental method, every achievement on behalf of the men and women who toil; every check upon the subordination of government to privilege; every barrier thrown between the American laborer and pauperized foreign competition since the birth of the Republican party has been wrought out of Republican principles by Republicans.

QUOTE RECORD.

The history of our country for more than half a century irrefutably records the sorry fact that whenever any other party, no matter by what name it has been known has taken over the responsibility for government, a brake has been put upon progress; prosperity has been checked; panicky conditions, unrest, wage reductions and utter lack of business stability have been immediately and inevitably consequent.

"A house divided against itself must fall."

This bitter truth has been brought home most painfully to the Republicans of this state and of the nation. A divided Republican party in California and throughout the union gave the affairs of this country into the hands of the avowed enemies of the principles upon which the prosperity and progress of the American people are dependent; gave the country into the hands of the representatives of a minority.

That division it was which permitted scathing blows to be struck at the fruit, sugar growing and manufacturing, wool, meat and grain-growing industries of California.

Hard upon that division reappeared the sour kitchens, the municipal lodging houses and the parades of the unemployed, which were unknown in the country under Republinc guidance from 1897 to 1913.

In this state and throughout the country employer and employee are now paying the price of the demagogue's betrayal of man against man; his appeal to a false class conscience. In the name of progress we have retrograded twenty years to the conditions of 1898.

That the people of other states have been quick to appreciate the cause of their troubles is evidenced by the returns from the elections in the east. They are hastening back to the Republican fold.

The time has come for all the Republicans in California to remember that they are Republicans, that the welfare of their country, their own pocketbooks, their own firesides, are infinite of more moment than the political ambitions of any set of men.

CANNOT UNDO INJURIES.

Sounding phrases will not furnish employment for the marching men in the streets of our cities. They will not undo the infinite miseries of the unemployed and laboring men. They will not put dimes in the till of the neighborhood merchant nor still the cries of hungry children. They will not decrease the enormous increased cost of government.

Genuine progress deals not with the past but with the present for the future. This is no time for recrimination; for filling the air with "Standpads" and "Reactionary" appeals to the passions of undiscriminating men and women.

The very existence of the many enterprises upon which the prosperity of this state and its people are dependent is contingent upon the dominance of a genuine Republican Party, controlled by Republicans through a representative government.

For these things this committee stands. For the accomplishment of these purposes it asks the co-operation of all men and women who believe in constructive government. In legislation measured by the standards of quality rather than quantity; in the parity of the rights of men; not in the glorifications nor the harassment or debasement of any class of men.

SOLIDIFICATION OF PARTY URGED

Republicans Issue Appeal to Voters for Support of the Party.

With a voiced determination to redeem its obligation to the Republicans of the state and an appeal for the solidification of a dominant Republican party in California, the Republican State Central Committee has issued the following statement:

Saturday, Jan. 10, 1914.
To the Republicans of California:

The Republican State Central Committee is determined to redeem its obligation to the Republicans of California. That obligation involves the solidification of a dominant Republican party in this state; organized on lines consonant with genuine Republican principles—the principles which underlie the progress and stability of this nation.

This committee calls for the active, hearty co-operation of every loyal Republican; of every citizen whose bones

LOS ANGELES FILM to Hold Up Train

(By Associated Press)
SAN JOSE, Jan. 10.—John Marquette and Harry Downing, each 21 years old, the former having been released from Preston last Monday, are in jail here and confess to having planned to hold up the Palo Alto electric train near Los Altos.

They stole a revolver and were arrested while attempting to steal another one from a secondhand store. Marquette was committed from San Francisco two years ago for highway robbery.

Downing was sent up from Fresno on a petty charge. They admit they waited Thursday night for a passenger train to stop at Los Altos and rob it.

Downing was found where he said he hid it in a barn.

Lieut.-Gov. Wallace Suggests Successor

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Lieutenant Governor Wallace thinks the man to succeed him is John M. Esthema, the railroad commissioner. He has announced that he does not care to be a candidate for re-election and suggests Esthema as a southern man who would be particularly strong in Imperial county, where he served as district attorney.

ANGRY POLICEWOMAN FORGETS TO ARREST

HUTCHINSON, Kan., Jan. 10.—Mrs. Irene Falls, police matron, admits she forgot to arrest a man who accused her because of her anger.

Mrs. Falls and her daughter were walking home one night when someone waving a pool, called where tongue-congested, two men standing outside accosted them.

"Would you like to have some company?" one of them inquired of Mrs. Falls. The police matron, whose star was under the lapel of her coat, stopped looked at the young man and approached him as he began backing away.

"Accept your company?" she wittily asked.

And then she told him just what she thought of a man who would address himself to a strange woman. In closing, she showed him her star, and told him to let this be a warning.

"He was becoming very visibly frightened by this time," said Mrs. Falls, "and I left him to think it over. To me the funny part of it was that a man should accuse a woman so old as I. Why, I have a grand-daughter going to school, I am"—but it would not be fair to Mrs. Falls to tell how old she said she was.

"But why did you not arrest the men?" Mrs. Falls was asked.

"Well, since it happened, I have wondered about that myself," she said, "but you know, I never once thought of that. I was too angry.

LONGSHOREMAN AND WIFE FOUND ASPHYXIATED

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—Old son, a longshoreman, aged 47, and his wife, aged 42, were found asphyxiated in their room in the hotel at 122 Tehama street, this afternoon. Avoided was evidently the cause of death.

A gas jet was turned on and there was a gas stove in the room. It was at first believed that there had been a suicide pact, as the keyhole was plugged with wood.

An examination showed that this had been done because the key did not fit. It is thought that while extinguishing the light Olson inadvertently turned on the key and fell to sleep without noticing the odor of the fumes.

INVESTIGATE CAUSE OF L. A. WOMAN'S DEATH

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—The Los Angeles police instituted today an investigation of the death of Miss Mary Kilfoll, who died last Monday after drinking a cup of chocolate, which a subsequent chemical analysis showed contained a deadly quantity of poison.

Officers from the district attorney's office have established that the chocolate can, found in Miss Kilfoll's home, contained poison and that the chocolate had been prepared by a member of the family.

Physicians who attended Miss Kilfoll at first declared her death to have been due to acute piromal poisoning.

CALIFORNIA SCHOOL OF ARTS OPENS NEW TERM

BERKELEY, Jan. 10.—The spring term of the California School of Arts and Crafts opened this week with a registration exceeding that of any year in its past. There was a decided increase also in the enrollment of students continuing in the full course. The Saturday school for adults and children began its work this morning.

A new feature of the present term's work will be a series of lectures given by practical artists, men or craft.

The first of this series was given Thursday afternoon by Charles W. Dunn, manager of the art department of the advertising firm of Foster & Klesler of Seattle. The subject of his address was "Practical Value of an Art Education."

Dunn quoted from his practical experience in the advertising line showing how in one field alone more and more designers are employing the talents of increasing steadily for better defined designs.

He also showed how the advertisers were showing a better appreciation of the art quality in advertising and were willing to pay for good work.

Alumni spoke highly of the quality and the variety of the student work now on exhibition at the art school and also pointed out to the students the efficiency of the training they are receiving which gave them an advantage over students of art schools in which the practical application of art was neglected.

THE SPECTATORS WHO GATHERED AT THE EMERYVILLE RACETRACK THIS AFTERNOON TO SEE LINCOLN BEACHEY LOOP THE LOOP IN THE AIR AND FLY UPSIDE DOWN AS WELL AS THE GREAT FIVE-MILE-RACE BETWEEN BEACHEY AND BARNEY OLDFIELD FOR THE SPEED SUPREMACY OF THE WORLD WERE TREATED TO PLENTY OF THRILLS.

Beacheys marvelous work in the sky was the amazing feature. His first flight consisted of exhibitions of fancy flying, with his hands off the steering wheel. He twisted his machine about in a seemingly impossible manner and his wonderful spirals and dips brought the crowd to its feet again after the race.

The first real thrill came when he ascended for his upside down flight. The machine mounted up until it was a mere speck in the sky. Then the barking of the motor stopped and straight out of the sky the aviator dropped. Suddenly the machine was seen to point its nose a little straighter to the ground, then twist over and the word "Beachey," painted on the top plane, was distinctly visible from the ground. Righting his machine the aviator swept to the ground.

CALIFORNIA SCHOOL OF ARTS OPENS NEW TERM

BERKELEY, Jan. 10.—The spring term of the California School of Arts and Crafts opened this week with a registration exceeding that of any year in its past. There was a decided increase also in the enrollment of students continuing in the full course. The Saturday school for adults and children began its work this morning.

A new feature of the present term's work will be a series of lectures given by practical artists, men or craft.

The first of this series was given Thursday afternoon by Charles W. Dunn, manager of the art department of the advertising firm of Foster & Klesler of Seattle. The subject of his address was "Practical Value of an Art Education."

Dunn quoted from his practical experience in the advertising line showing how in one field alone more and more designers are employing the talents of increasing steadily for better defined designs.

He also showed how the advertisers were showing a better appreciation of the art quality in advertising and were willing to pay for good work.

Alumni spoke highly of the quality and the variety of the student work now on exhibition at the art school and also pointed out to the students the efficiency of the training they are receiving which gave them an advantage over students of art schools in which the practical application of art was neglected.

WEINSTOCK TO TALK ON ACCIDENT INSURANCE

BERKELEY, Jan. 10.—A discussion of the state industrial accident insurance plan will be conducted by the City Club at the High school auditorium the evening of January 21. Harris Weinstock, chairman of the state commission on accident insurance, will be the chief speaker. Professor Thomas H. Reed will preside.

The meeting is a continuation of the club's discussion of the same subject started a year ago when Carl Hansen, insurance expert, gave an illustrated lecture. The club has changed its meetings nights from Tuesday to Thursday. The club has asked the council to open its chambers for evening meetings as is done at the schools.

SIEGE CAMPAIGN.

Adjutant A. Loney, in charge of the Salvation Army corps in Oakland, will open the Army's annual "Siege Campaign" this evening. The special meetings will run over four weeks. Speakers and singers will be brought from other cities. The first week will be "Reconciliation Week." Captain and Mrs. Muriel of Lytton Springs will conduct the meetings all day Sunday. These officers have seen service in France, Germany, Holland and Italy. Meetings will be held at the Salvation Army citadel on Ninth street, near Washington.

CRAWFORD FUNERAL MONDAY.

BERKELEY, Jan. 10.—The funeral of John J. Crawford, former state mineralogist who dropped dead at the South Berkeley Key Route station Wednesday night, will be held Monday afternoon at the California crematorium. The services will be conducted by California commandery Knights Templar, of which he had long been a member. Crawford is survived by a widow, Mrs. Fannie M. Crawford, and three children, Mrs. Margaret Lane of Brooklyn, N. Y.; Fred M. Crawford of Portland, Ore., and Miss Berta E. Crawford of Philadelphia. He was a native of Pennsylvania, aged 67 years.

Beacheys marvelous work in the sky was the amazing feature. His first flight consisted of exhibitions of fancy flying, with his hands off the steering wheel. He twisted his machine about in a seemingly impossible manner and his wonderful spirals and dips brought the crowd to its feet again after the race.

The first real thrill came when he ascended for his upside down flight. The machine mounted up until it was a mere speck in the sky. Then the barking of the motor stopped and straight out of the sky the aviator dropped. Suddenly the machine was seen to point its nose a little straighter to the ground, then twist over and the word "Beachey," painted on the top plane, was distinctly visible from the ground. Righting his machine the aviator swept to the ground.

RICHMOND LEAPS AHEAD ON ROAD TO GREATNESS

COMMISSION'S NEW HIGHWAY MEANS BIG VALUES

Richmond Organization Has a Program Mapped Out for Busy Year.

Plans Are Under Way for New Campaigns; Big Men in Move.

RICHMOND, Jan. 10.—The Richmond Industrial Commission, an organization of business men that embraces within its activities the bigger development matters of Richmond, is very optimistic over the prospects for Richmond in 1914.

really a chamber of commerce, has a branch office at 512 Hearst building San Francisco, established for the purpose of being in touch with manufacturing, shipping and other enterprises and bringing any to Richmond that it can. The inquiries made at this office and the connections formed through it, in themselves give indication of some development on extensive lines for this city in the next 12 months.

Building of the state highway and the sky-line boulevard, the widening of Twenty-third street, the voting of bonds for schoolhouses in the eastern part of the city, the reconstruction of the new harbor, the establishing of a ferry service between the Richmond and Marin shores, and other features of progress, will be among those to which the Industrial Commission will devote its activities this year.

HARBOR DEVELOPMENT.

The work of this organization in connection with the development of the Richmond harbor has given it a good deal of fame throughout the state. Under its auspices a delegation of 20 leading citizens went to Washington last June to impress upon the board of rivers and harbors engineers the importance of Richmond's harbor plans and to present all the details to that board. In the delegation were such men as D. W. McLaughlin, the man whose work was mainly responsible for the trip; John H. Nicholl, John J. McEwan, Senator J. C. Owens, G. W. Smith, Sheriff R. R. Veale, who has been a dynamo in working both for the harbor and the state highway; John R. Nistrom, Herbert F. Brown, R. E. McGill, John E. Bouquet, H. A. Stiver, Southern Pacific agent; F. J. Hubbard, editor of one of the local dailies; and Supervisor Warren McDowell, one of the most progressive officials. Contra Costa county engineer, P. A. Haywood, in charge of construction detail on the harbor, also was a member of the party, as were M. Emanuel and Ross Morgan, an engineer familiar with the Richmond water front.

MAKE SECOND TRIP.

Further matters coming up in connection with the harbor last December, D. W. McLaughlin got busy again and the Industrial Commission resolved to send Sheriff Veale on again, and McLaughlin and H. C. Cutting, known as the "father of the inner harbor," volunteered to go for the good of the cause. They did splendid work in explaining further matters on which the army engineers wanted enlightenment and received the thanks and appreciation of the city for their patriotic services.

TWO HOTELS BURN.

Richmond District Will See Big Boom Through State Work.

CITY CENTER CHOICE TRACT FEELS GREATLY BY ROADWAY.

The state highway which is to run into Richmond on San Pablo avenue will represent one of the largest development features of Richmond. It will add immensely to the value of all property in Richmond fronting it. Paved with asphalt, to meet the state requirements and with the flood of traffic which will come in, San Pablo avenue will become a great business artery in Richmond as it is in Oakland.

Richmond City Center subdivision owned by Bouquet & Moran, 408-411 First National Bank Building, Oakland, has an entire frontage on the new state highway or San Pablo avenue. This advantageous location has rendered Richmond City Center exceedingly desirable property and has steadily been rising through the improvements being finished and the arrangement to build a state highway. This really has advanced with such activity that it keeps the owners hustling with redoubled energy to wait on investors.

MAKES BUSINESS JUNCTION.

Building of the state highway along the front of Richmond City Center converts this subdivision into a business junction. The sky-line boulevard runs through this subdivision to the heart of the city, over Grant avenue and Wall boulevard.

Grant avenue, a coming business street, extends from Twenty-third street directly through Richmond City Center to the State highway or San Pablo Avenue. With these three big arteries of traffic converging into Richmond City Center a business junction is attained which will develop fast and advance property in this subdivision up to the highest values. Investors in Richmond City Center are greatly pleased and gratified at the manner in which Bouquet and Moran, who possess that reputation for soundness and reliability, are furthering every interest in carrying out every promise regarding improvements. They have also placed restrictions on this property which will insure the investor that Richmond City Center will be the highest class district in Richmond.

They are fulfilling everything they represent to investors and already thousands of dollars have been expended and improvements of property being rushed to completion. The completed sewer and water system have already been installed and will connect with Richmond's main arteries.

Richmond City Center will possess the finest oil macadamized streets, cement sidewalks, curbing and gutters of concrete and every thoroughfare improved in a first-class manner, regardless of expense. This work is now under course of construction and under the personal supervision of the City Engineer, as the improvements are being installed to official grade.

Though no provision is embodied in the contracts, Bouquet and Moran are installing, at their own expense, ornamental trees on the avenues. This will give added beauty to Richmond City Center.

The firm is busy every day taking investors to Richmond. It receives hundreds of inquiries for maps and pamphlets which it sends out free.

TIDELAND TITLES MAY ALL BE UNDER CLOUD

RICHMOND, Jan. 10.—That the titles to many hundreds of acres of local waterfront property is still vested in the federal government and not in local industrial concerns and private owners is the news brought from the state capital by City Attorney D. J. Hall, who has been spending several days in looking up the patents issued by the state of California during the past half century to private citizens.

Hall contends that all of the local overflow and swamp land outside of the old Spanish grant of the San Pablo rancho is still vested in the United States. Attorneys for large local realty owners, railway corporations, Standard Oil Company and others do not agree with the city legal advisor.

PRESBYTERIAN SOCIAL IS A GREAT SUCCESS

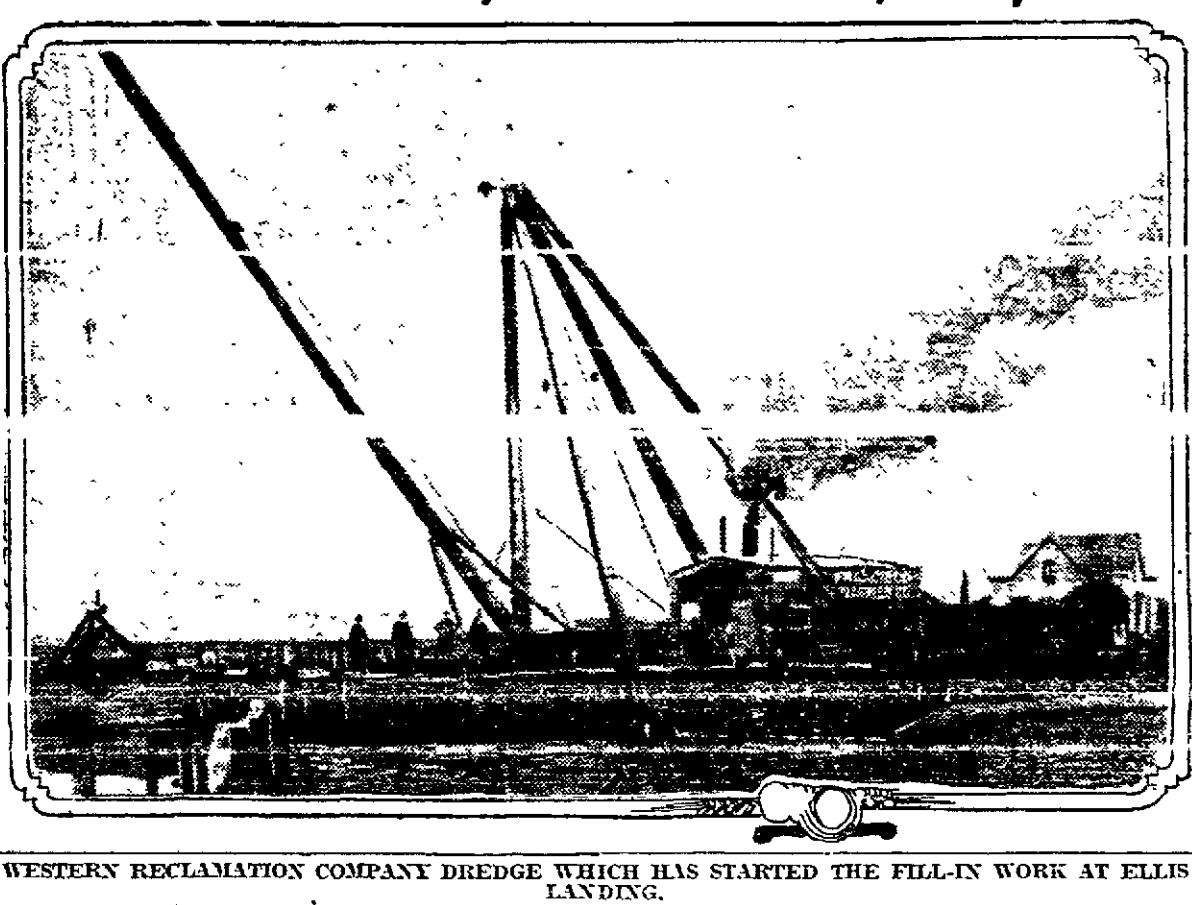

RICHMOND, Jan. 10.—The first social ever given in the parlor of the beautiful new Presbyterian church drew a throng of merrymakers last evening and proved to be the best that the women of the congregation have ever given. Oakland the Second Port.

In point of tonnage handled, Oakland is now the second port on the Pacific Coast, being exceeded by San Francisco. According to the harbor report made by Colonel Rees, army engineer in charge of river and harbor work on the Pacific Coast, the water-borne commerce passing through Oakland is considerably in excess of the combined tonnage of Los Angeles and Seattle. It is but little less than the combined total of Seattle and Portland. The volume of marine traffic handled in San Francisco Bay is larger in bulk and greater in value than the total of all other ports on the Pacific Coast.

The importance of Oakland harbor is shown by the rapid increase of the freight tonnage handled here. Not only is the business of the port immense, but it is increasing by leaps and bounds. Here are the facilities for cheap and expeditious handling whether for transhipment or local consumption. Here is a large and flourishing manufacturing industry, and conveniences for docking alongside cars and factories. No city on the Pacific Coast is so well supplied in this respect. No other city is so advantageously located for the exchange of raw and manufactured products, more diligently improving its facilities to meet the growing demands of commerce. Hence no maritime city on the western shore of the Pacific has a more brilliant future.

Oakland is on the right side of the bay—the continental side. It has a vast stretch of waterfront accessible to shipping. Its harbor is girdled with railroad tracks, therefore ship and car come together at this port under conditions most favorable to the shipper. Our inner harbor reaches into the heart of a factory district where fuel and raw materials can be unloaded at the doors of manufactorys. Ships can lie in this inner harbor safe from gales and tidal waves. There are shipyards where repairs can be effected at the minimum of expense, and where refitting is most convenient and inexpensive.

Oakland harbor is destined to be one of the great commercial havens in the world. It is superbly located for trade and industry. Its strategic and transportation advantages are just beginning to tell. The figures of Colonel Rees' report are the story. It is that Oakland is the second port on the Pacific Coast. It is destined to be first.

The Pacific Wine and Spirit Review, a San Francisco publication that is recognized as the official organ of the liquor traffic, devotes much of its space to disapproving THE TRIBUNE. It says THE TRIBUNE is advocating Prohibition. It seems to be entirely satisfied with the Enquirer, which supports the liquor men's wide open ordinance because the present ordinance does not abolish all the saloons. In passing, we may remark that the Wine and Spirit Review has consistently ranged itself against regulating and restricting liquor traffic in every part of the State. It stigmatizes all demands for cleaner conditions and moral betterment as expressions of fanaticism—in other words, it makes no distinction between wholesome, reasonable regulation and absolute Prohibition. But it has no fear of the Enquirer as an advocate of Prohibition.

Phelan as a Jacksonian.

In his speech at the Jackson Day banquet, James D. Phelan heartily endorsed the Jacksonian shibboleth, "To the victors belong the spoils." As he is himself a candidate for United States Senator, and was talking to a gathering largely composed of men who had gathered the plums of office by shaking the tree before their predecessors were ripe enough to fall of their own accord, it is not surprising that he should so express himself.

But Mr. Phelan has expressed himself quite differently in the past. Civil Service reform was his strong suit in the past. When the Republicans were in power he did not believe in Presidents filling the offices with their friends. He was wont to inveigh eloquently against the evils of the spoils system, and to cite it as a reason why the Republicans should be stripped of power and a Democrat installed in the White House.

Now he acknowledges the wisdom of giving the offices to friends of the administration, and putting the enforcement of public policies in the hands of officials in sympathy with those policies, although he formerly stigmatized those who advanced the same argument as "spoilsman." But it makes a great difference when a candidate is seeking the favor of men who are enjoying the spoils of office.

Still it is never too late to learn. The reaction Mr. Phelan has experienced has come at a time when it justifies his party friends in grabbing every office in sight. A banquet in Andrew Jackson's honor was a fitting time to avow adherence to William L. Marcy's famous aphorism: "Old Hickory was no hypocrite." He was in favor of a Democratic President putting Democrats in office, and he took pleasure in turning the other fellows out to make room for them. He said so frankly. He did not set up the false pretense that he was removing his political opponents because they were rascals, but because they were adversaries standing in the way of the followers he wished to reward.

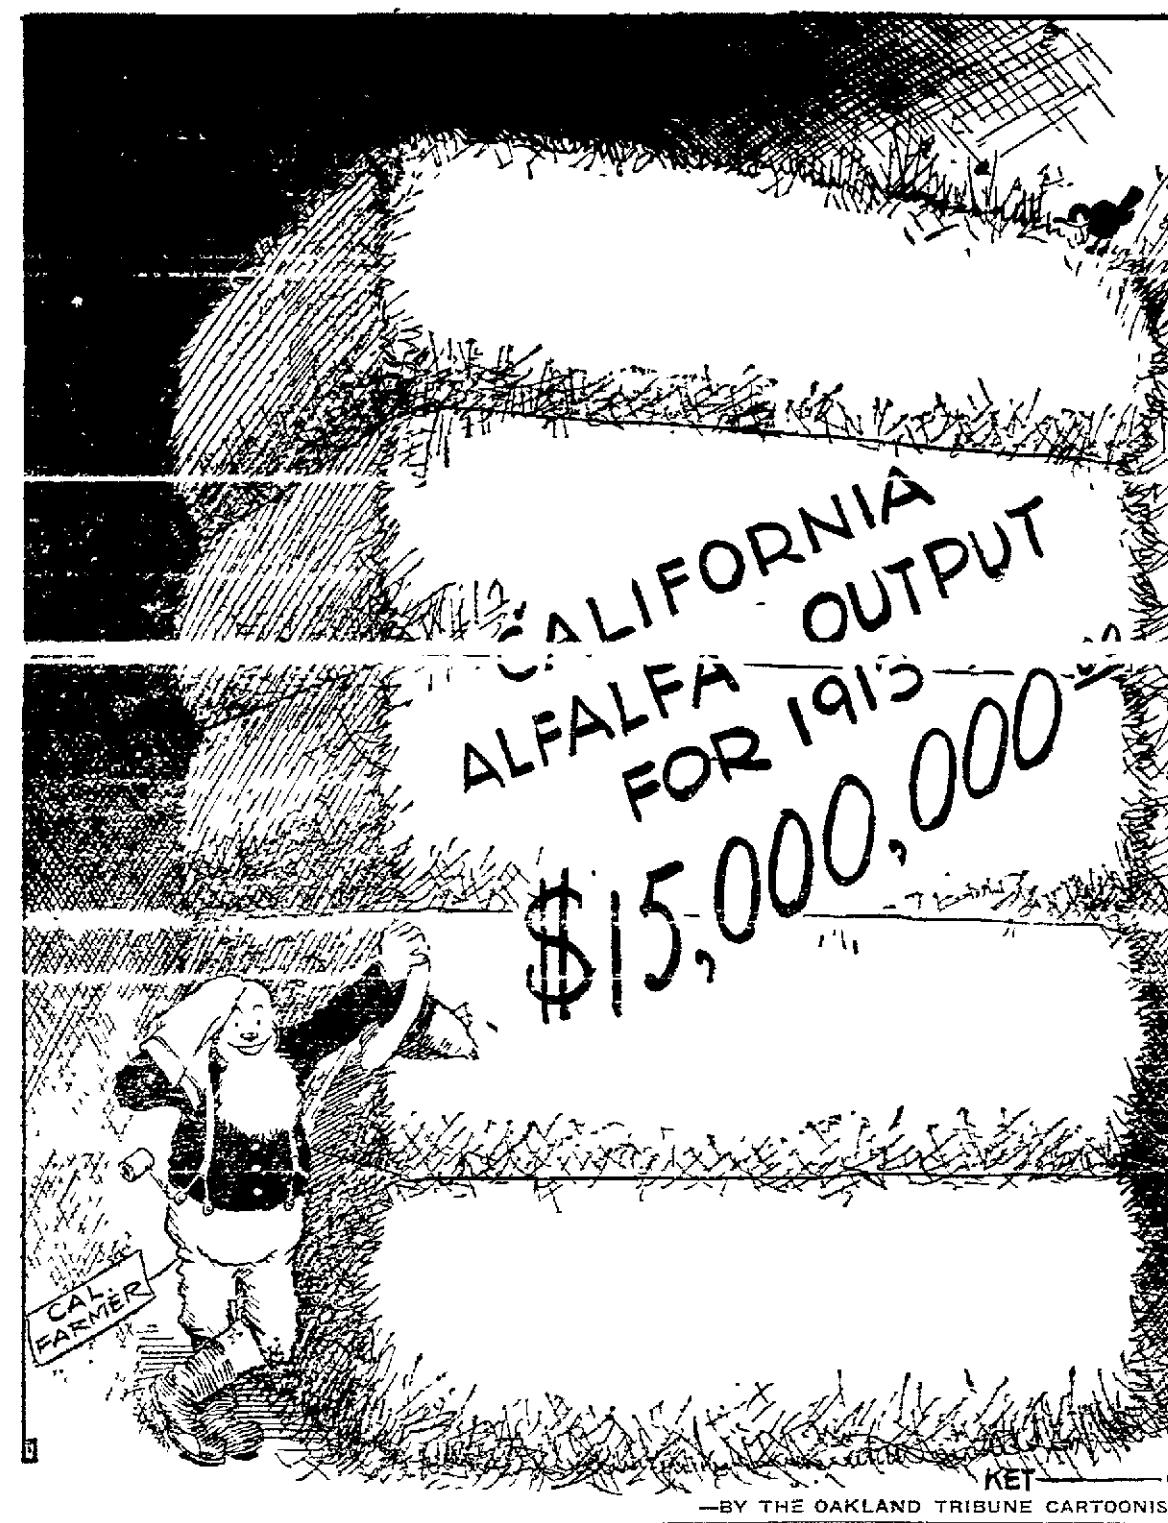

But Mr. Phelan could hardly do less than endorse the spoils system under the circumstances. He has been active (and quite successful) in importuning the President to remove Republicans and appoint his friends to their places. With Postmaster Charlie Fay vigorously clapping his hands every other minute, Mr. Phelan felt bound, in justice to himself, to defend the principle on which Arthur Fisk was removed to make room for Mr. Fay. So he came back to first principles with a candor truly remarkable because of its rarity.

And why should not a distributor of spoils stand up for the spoils system? He would stultify himself by condemning the practice in which he is engaged, and which he is employing as a lever to lift himself into the Senate.

This cold snap is worth big money to the orchardists. It has come at precisely the right time. It is just cold enough to arrest the swelling in the fruit buds and not cold enough to be uncomfortable or stop grass from growing. Thus far the season has been ideal for the husbandmen, and if nothing untoward occurs 1914 will be a big crop year for California.

The sage of the Richmond Record-Herald has racked his brain for a solution to the question, why hens do not lay eggs when eggs are high? Here is the conclusion he has arrived at: "The eggs are high because the hens do not lay. He might have said the eggs go down the moment nests go to laying. It takes time to work out such paradox."

SOME BALE OF HAY

Guying a Pundit.

The Peterfield Californian is real mean in reminding Chester Rowell of his oft-repeated declaration that the Democratic and Republican parties are dead, it gleefully points out that the Democrats and Republicans are ahead in the registration in Fresno County.

A prophet is not without honor save in his own country. Rowell injures his prestige as a prophet by contradicting the facts of history. Also he makes the mistake of delivering funeral orations over the living.

He belongs to the same school of logicians as the man who bet his neighbor the drinks that he could prove he was on the other side of the river from the one on which they were standing. "That is one side of the river, isn't it?" pointing to the opposite bank. "Of course" was the reply. "Well, this is the other side, and you are on it."

But the bet was not paid because the demonstration left the loser on the same side of the river that he was before he was ferried across by a sophistical trick.

Some years ago THE TRIBUNE reminded the editor of the Fresno Republican that a party could die but once. The fault of his logic was that he presumes the Democratic party has more lives than a cat. He has killed it with his little hatchet too often. As long as it remains unburied it will get up and scrap. As Kipling said of Fuzzy Wuzzy: "he's all 'ot sand and ginger, and 'e's mostly shammin' when 'e's dead." Like original sin, it promises to stay with us till the millennium.

Three times since it was founded the Republican party has been killed—that is, its enemies have declared it to be dead. But it is still alive, and is coming back puissant and strong. It refuses to die at the bidding of apostates or surrender the splendid heritage handed down by its founders.

The argument that the present generation can only be true to its traditions and the great causes it was founded to advance by cutting its throat and abandoning it as a dishonored corpse belongs in the class with the verbal expert who transported his neighbor across the river by placing him on the wrong side in the beginning.

The voters of Fresno know which side of the river they are on despite the sophistical arguments the editor of the Republican puts forth with an appearance of candor that is more ingenuous than ingenuous. They are pinning their faith to the living, not the dead, and are quite competent to distinguish between a figure of speech and a figure of flesh and blood.

So the registration figures explode Mr. Rowell's sophistry and prophecy as a pin-prick collapses a wind-distended bladder.

The Enquirer would have no need to apologize to its readers or laboriously explain that it sympathizes with everybody in general and saloon men in particular if it would frankly say whether it is for or against the ordinance the liquor men have framed up to supersede the ordinance now in force. It says it favors a still more drastic ordinance, but the issue now before the people of Oakland is not whether regulation shall be made more stringent, but whether the system of regulation recently provided by the Council shall be practically nullified. Does it stand with the forces of good government who are opposed to breaking down restrictions on the liquor traffic or with the saloon junta that is trying to break down those restrictions? Where does the Enquirer stand in this fight? Is it supporting those who favor regulation or encouraging those who are opposed to it? Why does the Enquirer beat about the bush and hesitate to declare its position in terms not to be misunderstood?

The California Democrats displayed their progressive spirit by holding their Jackson Day dinner on the 7th instead of the 5th of January. Was this intended as a hint to Woodrow to come through with the jobs not already parcelled out?

EXPERIENCES OF PULITZER

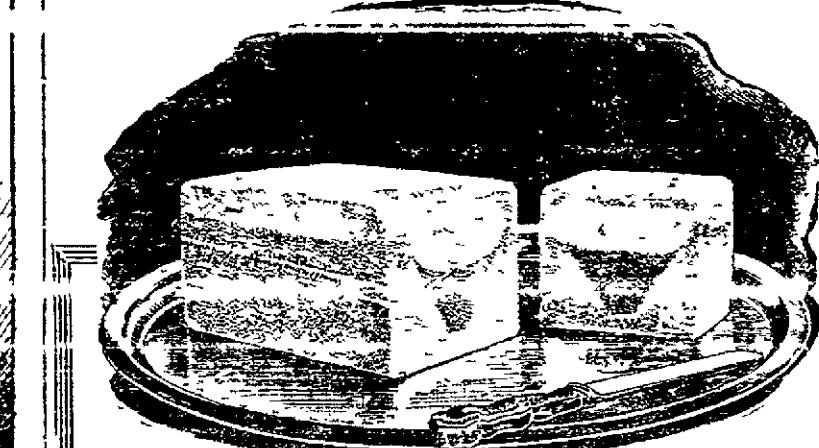

An interesting anecdote of Joseph Pulitzer's early days, which he told with great relish, related to his experience as fireman on a Mississippi river-boat. His limited knowledge of English was regarded by the captain as a personal affront, and that fire-eating old-timer made it his particular business to let young Pulitzer feel the weight of his authority. At last the overwork and the constant bullying drove Mr. Pulitzer into revolt, and he left the boat after a violent quarrel with the captain.

Whenever Mr. Pulitzer reached this point in his story and I heard him tell it several times, his face lighted up with amusement and he had to stop until he had enjoyed a good laugh.

"Well, my God!" he would conclude. "I was a greenhorn boy, I had learned English and studied some law and been made a notary public, this very same captain walked into my office in St. Louis one day to have some documents sealed. As soon as he saw me he stopped short as if he had been shot and said, 'Say, ain't you the damned cuss that I fired off my boat?' "I told him that I was. He was the most surprised man I ever saw, but after he had sworn his horse he faced the facts and gave me his business."

Perhaps the most characteristic of all Mr. Pulitzer's stories about himself was one relating to an occurrence which took place after he had become editor and proprietor of the World-Herald. He had given great offense to a certain judge in St. Louis and the latter declared one day from the bench that before the sun set he would seek out Pulitzer and shoot him down like a dog. It is memory serves me, Mr. Pulitzer was in court when this threat was made—in any case it came to his ears—and he sat there all day long, waiting for "Ferra" announcing the proposed assassination and stating that no would remain in his office until the setting of the sun in order that no hatch might occur in the program—Alvarez Ireland in Metropolitan

URGED TO MAKE NAVAL RANK PERMANENT

Paymaster - General Recommends Commissions for Admirals.

Reported Attitude of Committee Source of Worry to Officers.

(By Associated Press) WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Legislation to provide admirals and vice-admirals in the navy with permanent commissions and not merely holding the rank while of the fleets, or squadrons, is urged in memoranda just submitted by Paymaster General Cowie, U. S. N. to the House committee on naval affairs. This recommendation follows Secretary Daniels' declaration in favor of four vice-admirals and the reported probable attitude of the naval committee in favor of temporary commissions of rear-admirals in these high ranks.

"This rumored attitude on the part of the naval committee is of the gravest of much moment," wrote the paymaster general, "is the source of much apprehension among government officials, naval officers and other persons familiar with international affairs, who in their well founded knowledge, very keenly appreciate the necessity which the creation of permanent high naval ranks in the American navy—'a law that would grant only temporary commissions as admirals and vice-admirals would, at best, prove hardly more than a half way measure and would almost entirely fail to bring about those national benefits and advantages of position, the obtaining of which constitutes the motive of recommendations."

"An admiral should command a fleet, a vice-admiral should command a squadron, a rear admiral should command a division."

The paymaster general added that it was opposed to all common sense, as well as to the niceties of propriety for a commander in chief to bear the same rank and title as the subordinate division and squadron heads under his flag. The United States, he said, is the only naval power that confides the command of a powerful battle fleet to a rear admiral and even the Chinese, Portuguese and Danish navies have vice-admirals who take precedence over the commanders in chief of the American Atlantic fleet.

TO ANSWER WHY MEN ARE NOT MEMBERS OF CHURCH

HAYWARD, Jan. 10.—"Why are not more men in Hayward members of the church?" is one of a series of questions on church work put by Rev. Irving E. Thompson of the Methodist church and which have been answered by about 50 business men of this city. The replies will form the basis of a series of Sunday evening sermons commencing tomorrow evening to which the men folk have been especially invited.

Among the questions asked were:

- 1.—Why are not more men in Hayward members of the church?
- 2.—Do you consider that the churches have done all they can do?
- 3.—What do you consider the most helpful features of church life today?
- 4.—The first sermon based on the reply letters will be on the subject, "The kind of religion that is played out."
- 5.—The topics of the other sermons will be as follows:

 - Too Many Creeds and Churches"
 - "The Hypocrisies in the Church."
 - "The Stress of Business Life and Methods."

LOUISA MENDONCA AND HER FATHER, WHO SAVED HER FROM DEATH.

Louisa Mendonca Recovers From Experience in Flames

SAN LEANDRO, Jan. 10.—Fire rear old Louisa Mendonca, who was rescued in the nick of time by her father when almost suffocated by smoke in the fire at the Mendonca home, yesterday morning, is pronounced out of danger.

She looked as though she was past all aid when her father, braving choking smoke and flame, carried the limp form of his little daughter to safety.

Louisa was unconscious for several hours but revived under the care of Dr. Charles Coleman.

An examination of the gutted house shows how near a call the little girl had from being suffocated or burned to death.

The fire raged in the kitchen, which lies between the door leading to the outside stairway and the bedroom in which Louis had been located by her father.

TELLS OF RESCUE

"I tried to get across the kitchen to open the bedroom door," said Mendonca in relating how he saved his daughter. "The flames and smoke kept me back at first but I managed to reach the bedroom door."

There I met another obstacle, for I could not find the keyhole, and the choking smoke compelled me to return to the stairway for a breath of fresh air. My second attempt was successful and I managed to make my way into the bedroom but could not see my daughter on account of the smoke. I was almost driven back again but managed to find her and her before I rushed back to the stairs."

Among the questions asked were:

EXPRESS RATE REDUCTION GETS O. K.

Will Favor Shippers in Eastern California and in Other States.

New Schedule Will Go Into Effect at End of Two Months.

DENVER, Jan. 10.—State railroad commissioners, commission experts, express company representatives from states included in the fourth zone and day session here unanimously decided to adopt the block and sub-block system of rates as first announced by the Interstate Commerce Commission and later recommended, with modifications, by the convention of National Association of Railway Commissioners held in Chicago December 11-13, 1918. By the adoption of these sub-block tariffs, considerable reduction will be made, in the whole, to shippers in Arizona, Nevada, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Colorado, New Mexico, and parts of California.

In some cases the tariff has been raised, in others lowered, but these will go into effect according to express company representatives as soon as the new rates can be compiled and published—within two months. The package rate was materially reduced within the zone excepting cases of circuitous routing of shipments and future reductions in the 100-pound package rate for short distance hauls were announced by companies.

COMPANIES CONCERNED.

The projected rates affect the following express companies: Globe, American, Wells-Fargo, United States, Adams and Northern.

The report by which the block and sub-block system of rate finding was adopted was signed by O. L. Owen, commissioner of public corporations, New Mexico; B. F. Seggerson, rate expert to New Mexican commissioner; A. W. Cole, corporation commissioner of Arizona; W. M. Sangster, rate expert; S. S. Kendall and D. H. Staley, Colorado railroad commissioners; H. H. Miller, accountant for the Idaho public utilities commission; D. M. Mayo, general manager Globe Express company; E. E. Rush, assistant traffic manager American Express company; N. K. Lockwood, traffic manager Wells-Fargo Express company; T. B. Harrison, general counsel for Adams and Northern Express companies; C. W. Stockton, general counsel Wells-Fargo; C. K. Kelley, auditor Globe Express company; E. W. Bellmore, superintendent of traffic for the Northern Express company; R. E. M. Cowie, general manager American Express company; C. L. SHORE LINE TO BE RUN BY ELECTRICITY

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—For the purpose of providing funds necessary to charter the Shore Line of the San Francisco Shore Railroad from steam to electric, the general stockholders in that corporation, at a meeting held yesterday morning, unanimously voted to issue $5 per cent bonds in the sum of $5,000,000.

Of the total issue the first $2,000,000 subscribed will be used for making the contemplated change and equipping for electric service that portion of the railroad operating between San Francisco and Half Moon Bay. This $2,000,000 has already been pledged by real estate operators with tracts of land along the railroad's right of way. The remainder is not expected to reach the market for the present.

According to F. W. Bradley, president of the Ocean Shore Company, the actual cost of making the motive-power change will come to about $150,000. The balance of the $2,000,000 will be used for making the local organization to operate the line.

The horse had covered a distance of twelve miles in forty minutes, having never once left the track.

The engineer said he slowed up near Hillsboro, hoping the horse would leave the track, but still it ran on, and the big locomotive was soon close to it.

The horse had been newly shod, but during the run lost its shoes and entirely stripped itself of all harness, but it does not seem to have suffered from the race.

MARCHES BURGLAR TO STATION; THEN FAINTS

CARSON, Jan. 10.—Mrs. John P. Flynn, wife of a wealthy entrepreneur, captured a negro burglar early yesterday, marched him to the police station at the point of a revolver and then faints.

Mrs. Flynn, with her daughter, was alone in their home when they heard someone trying to get into the house.

Mrs. Flynn picked up revolver, opened the door and faced the negro. Taken by surprise, he obeyed her command to hold up his hands and marched obediently to the police station.

CHURCH DIGNITARIES MEET AT BANQUET

LONDON, Jan. 10.—Sir Joseph Compton-Russell, chairman of Congregational Union of Wales, presided last night at a banquet given by the Evangelical Free Church in honor of the American delegates to the world Free Church meeting.

The Meddler

THE mid-winter days are full of social activities, with debutantes still making their bows to society, with tea dances, with soirees dansantes, with an occasional "apris le theatre," and with the usual luncheons and dinners characteristic of the social season.

January has not for years represented so gay a month, and untiring energy and ceaseless activity are the characteristics of the smart set of today. The lighter side of life carries its own appeal, and the pendulum has swung far in the line of helpful

The tango is the all absorbing question of the hour, and it seems to thrive on abuse. In the course of its European career it has won the disapproval of the kaiser, of the queen of England, and of many of the crowned heads of Europe. All sorts of things are said about it, but still the people dance merrily on. It has been discreetly intimated to those who are likely to be the queen's hostages in the near future, that she could not consent to visit any house where the tango might be danced. But when the queen is not looking, England has another story to tell.

The tango has become a veritable craze in Paris. Tango teas, tango dinners, and tango suppers are advertised all over the city. The most modest tea room has yielded to the mania, and has its band and dancers, while not a musical program can be found without a tango number in it. At private parties it is the same. Every other dance is a tango.

In London at all the New Year celebrations the tango was the centre of interest. In one large hotel at the stroke of midnight four men carried in a huge pie. Through the crust jumped a beautiful girl, who led a tango in which all the guests joined.

At another large hotel at midnight, one saw a dreadnaught leaving Malta harbor. There was the booming of twelve guns,—which was also a tango signal. Another large restaurant was turned into an English castle, making an environment for a modern tango.

A broad, the dancers are far ahead of our people, in the beauty of the new steps they know how to take. For instance, there is the Brazilian Matchiche. Nobody knows how to spell it, but everybody knows how to dance it. Perhaps Maurice, while he is here, may teach to some of our bright young people the striking and fascinating "Brazilian Matchiche."

The Palace, the St. Francis, the Oakland are all crowded during the hours of the "dansants"—and there is a curious mélange. One sees the new recruits, trying the new steps, looking anxious, embarrassed,—and then exultant—as their feet at last keep time to the merry music,—and to the syncopated measures of the big bass drum.

Everybody knows everybody else new steps,—and people quite frankly learn,—and all the world capers and dances to its heart's content.

For one can trust the tango to drive dull care away. And the tired business man has taken on a new lease of life because of the exercise,—and one would be ashamed to mention in the social world of today any such a thing as nerves.

But the finest feature of the new dancing is that it offers diversion to elderly people. No longer do they stand idly outside the charmed circle, sighing vainly for a vanished youth.

They themselves are part of the eternal youth, of things. If Ponce de Leon had ever found his fabled fountain of youth, he would no doubt have found in it nymphs dancing the tango! It was found early in its career that modern dancing was the one activity needed in the pursuit of good health.

Therefore you find grandfathers nowadays doing a one step or even the difficult tango with a degree of grace and agility that makes one wonder. Men discovered that the new dancing in its primitive form was easy to do, and soon hostesses were heard to utter no more the old complaint about the dearth of dancing men.

But those who opposed dancing a few months ago have no longer any reason for doing so now,—for gone are all the distinguishing characteristics of the new dances in their beginning. To move one's shoulders is not now good form, and even the dip of fantastic proportions, and swaying are in bad taste. In the one step, as it is most widely termed, one moves slowly and regularly, and if he has any sense of rhythm, and can put the correct foot forward at the beat of the music, even the most awkward man may create an illusion of grace.

The Edoffs have lived in Oakland many years, and are one of its best known families, so Miss Edoff's debut was a social event of more than the ordinary degree of interest. Mrs. George Porter Baldwin, (Florence Edoff) looks almost as young as the attractive debutante, and they made a charming study, receiving the old time friends, and the new ones also, of a young girl.

The Edoff home at Piedmont was a lovely study in floral decorations, and the homes this season have offered an appropriate and picturesque setting for the coming out of the dear little maid of the family circle. The large drawing room in which the hostesses received their guests was very lovely in American Beauty roses, in orchids, and in lilies of the valley. A pictureque veranda leads to the drawing room and it was bright with acacia and with tropical plants.

The dining room was a study in pink, Killarney roses being daintily arranged in vases, and the walls were decorated with pink and blue.

Parisian color effects in pink and blue were very much the order of the hour among the members of the receiving party, and the most elaborate gown of all was a Paris creation worn by Mrs. George Porter Baldwin, who has recently come from the East. The gown was of crepe de chine, in pale color tones of pink, with a tulle in pale blue, trimmed in rare point de Venise. Lovely orchids added to the exquisite color tones of the gown.

Miss Allene Edoff was an exquisite study of a charming young girl, her gown being most beautifully planned. It was of white satin, in sheer tulle, with fine shadow lace, the gown lighted with a bodice beautifully embroidered in pearls and rhine stones.

Around the debutantes was a wonderful collection of flowers, all planned directly for a fair young girl. On her arm she carried a lovely basket of flowers,—beautifully arranged in tones of pink, and tied with a great bow of pink tulle.

The hours of the reception were from 4 to 6,—and in the evening about seventy-five guests assembled for a dance,—a supper following the dance.

The famous clerk of the weather was certainly very good to pretty Allene Edoff, for he sent her a perfect day, full of warm sunshine, and during the hours of the reception, the drawing room was crowded with guests. We are still in the holiday season, so "A Happy New Year" sounded cordially on all sides, and everywhere one heard the happy greetings of friends who have known each other many years.

Many attractive gowns were seen at the tea, and among the very handsome costumes was that worn by Mrs. Thomas Coghill, who wore a gown of deep heliotrope satin, trimmed in velvet of the same shade.

Pretty Barbara Bromwell, the youngest bride-elect in many months—looked charming—in the dailest of gowns—a creation of pale pinks and blues, most attractively made. She was a most attractive little bride-elect for whom everyone sincerely wishes a most happy future.

Mrs. Frank Hunt Proctor was one of the popular guests of the afternoon. She wore a costume of the fashionable marking the most successful costumes

handsome gown of black velvet trimmed in fur, and Mrs. Wickham Havens was also in black velvet, a stunning study in an afternoon calling costume.

Mrs. Oscar Long was among the guests, looking specially well in a tailored costume with a most becoming hat to match, and one of the most elaborate gowns at the reception was worn by Mrs. Thomas Watson Cushing. It was of orange colored taffeta, with a wide black velvet girdle. The corsage bouquet was of lovely wild flowers in blue and yellow, adding an appropriate note of color to the gown.

Truly the gift of beauty was generously bestowed on the Sharon fam-

Cassidy, who was beautifully gowned, and who has made many friends for herself since coming to Oakland.

Miss Esther Sharon is a very beautiful girl, with stunning coloring—a blonde with Titian hair of lovely gold tones.

She wore the gown which attracted so much attention at the musical Dr. Tevis gave for Emma de Gogorza. It was of orange colored taffeta, with a wide black velvet girdle. The corsage bouquet was of lovely wild flowers in blue and yellow, adding an appropriate note of color to the gown.

Truly the gift of beauty was generously bestowed on the Sharon family.

Miss Edith Selby spends so much time in Los Gatos that her friends are always glad to welcome her warmly when she comes to Oakland. Four of Mrs. George Baldwin's special friends have always been Mrs. George Jensen (Anita Oliver), Miss Beesle Palmer, Miss Ethel Valentine, and Miss Edith Selby. They are a fine quartet of young people, and they were very happy members of a most successful receiving party.

Among the very attractive younger the younger matrons was Mrs. Harry Farr. Her gown was in tones of blue, with an overdrap of black net, beautifully beaded in pearls. The Lohse and Taylor families have been much raised from social affairs, since they have been for so many months in mourning. They were gladly welcomed by their friends, and Mrs. Montell Taylor, Mrs. McClure Gregory, and Miss Clarissa Lohse all made attractive pictures.

Mrs. Frank C. Havens wore a New York gown of garnet duvetin—the new material so very popular in the east this winter. It was made high to the throat, as are the calling costumes in the east this season, and was finished at the neck with a band of fur—in the yellow tones, also so popular in the east.

Mrs. Taft has been away so much that she also holds a reception of her own when she comes to a tea. She was beautifully gowned in brown.

Mrs. Requa entertained a large dinner at her home.

Among the many prominent people present at the reception were:

Mrs. Edward Walsh, Mrs. Walter Henry, Mrs. Robert Flieger, Mrs. Harry Hayes, Mrs. John E. Conners, Mrs. Mona Crellin, Miss Phoebe Wetmore, Mrs. Frank K. Jack, Mrs. Sylvanus Farmer, Mr. Wallace Everett, Mrs. Estate Clifford, Mrs. Thomas Phelps, Mrs. J. B. Richardson, Mrs. Dan Belden, Mrs. Girard Richardson, Mrs. George Baldwin, Mrs. John Valentine, Mrs. Laura Bassett, Mrs. Frank K. Mott, Mrs. Lulu Webster, Miss Adele Spring, Mrs. John Louis Lobes, Mrs. Emily Hampton, Mrs. Charles Head, Mrs. John Yule, Mrs. Davis, Miss Anna Barbour, Mrs. George Pendleton, Mrs. William Ellis, Mrs. Elsie Sinclair, Miss Rita Meekley, Mrs. Charles E. Par-Mrs. Margate.

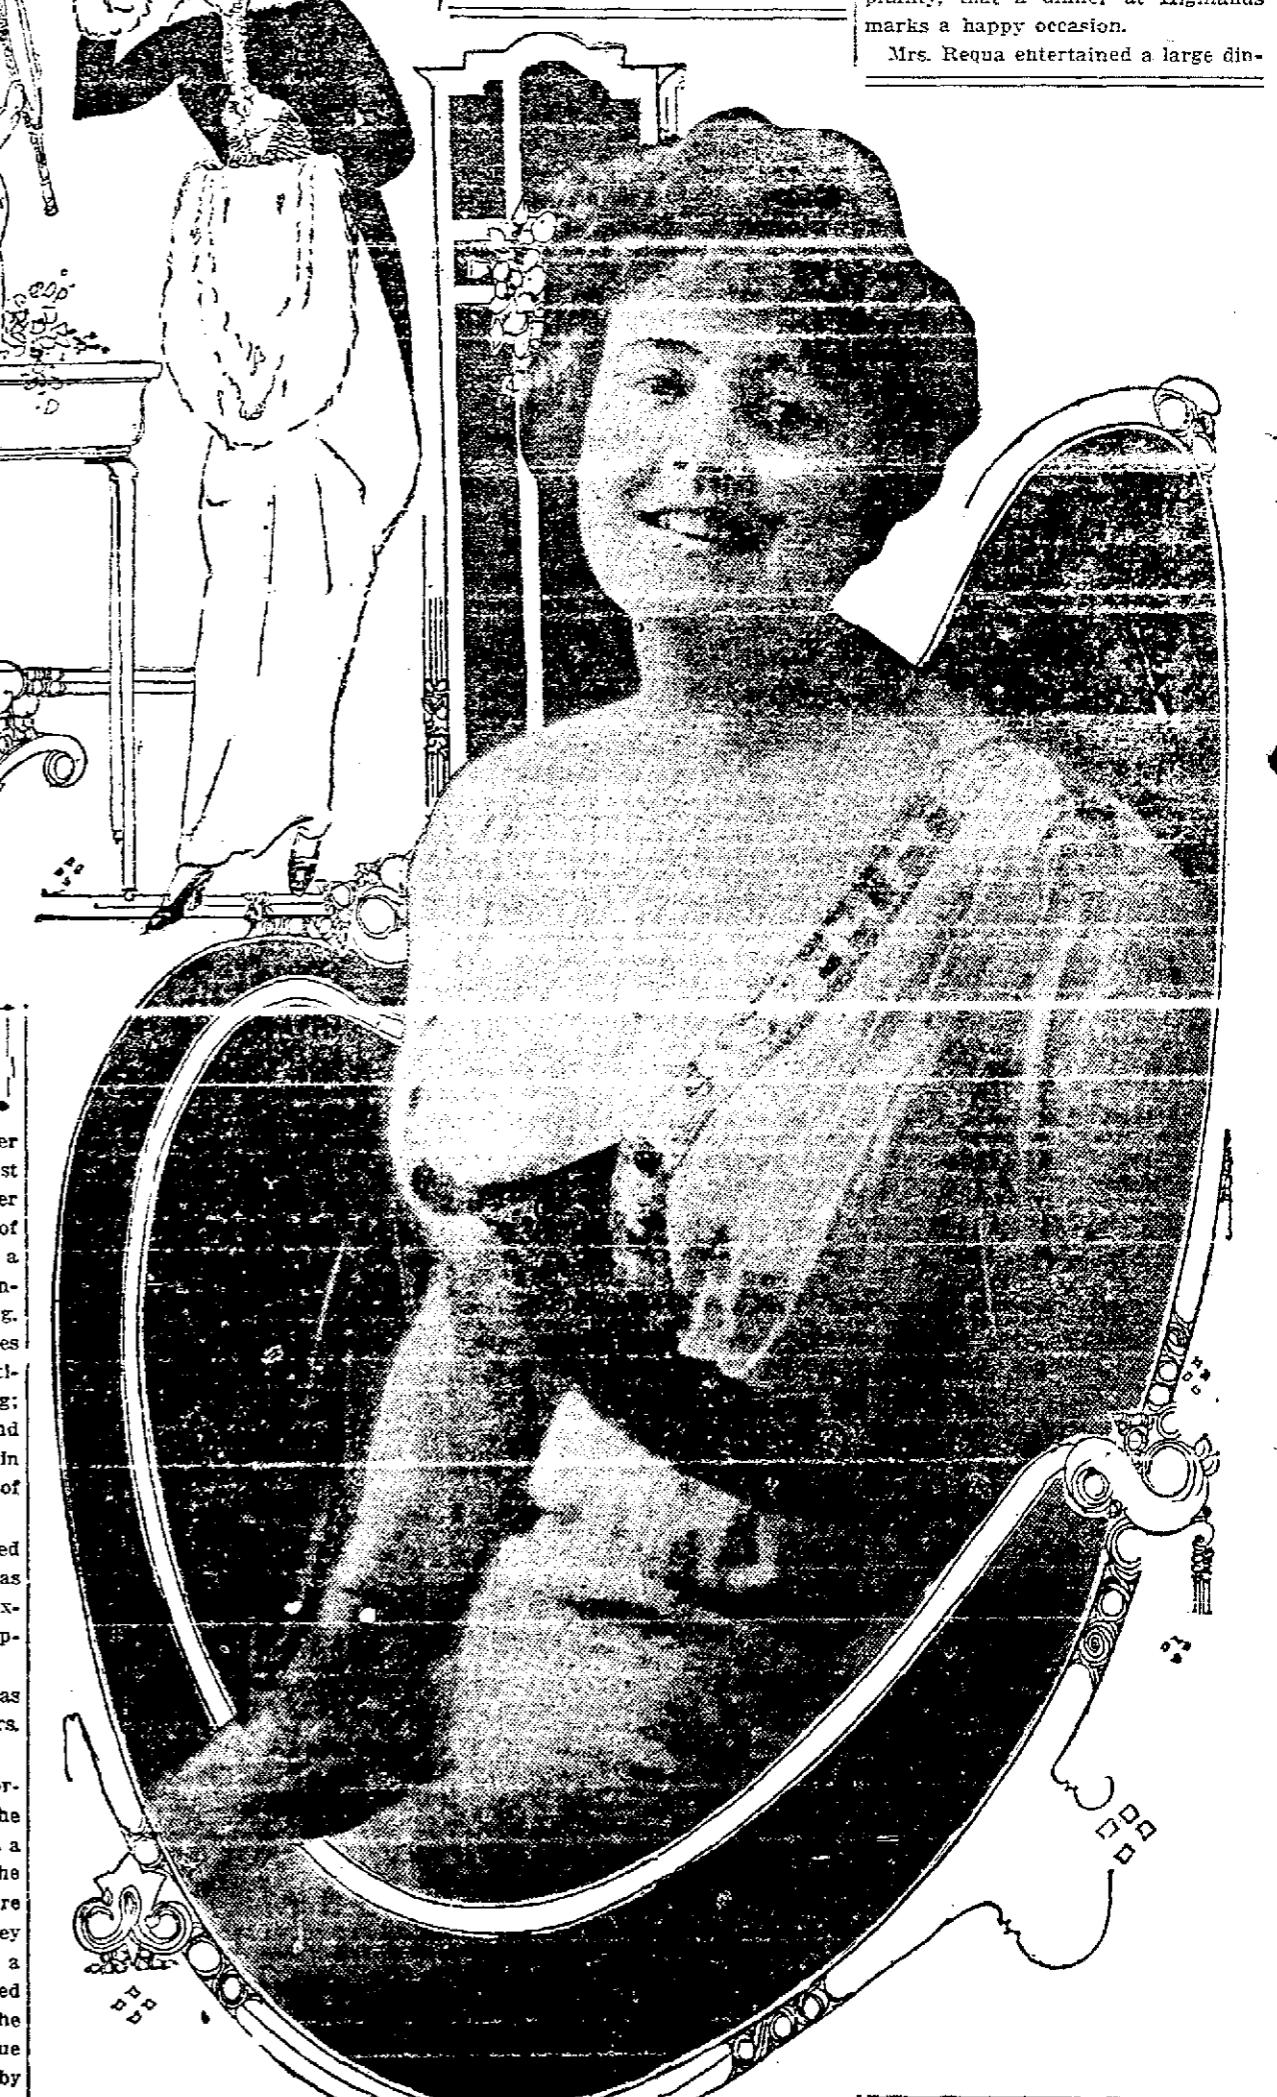

Miss Leon Clark, Mrs. William Hall.

The young people greatly enjoyed the dance in the evening, and many among them were very clever in the new steps, especially in the tango. So that the coming out of Miss Allene Edoff meant a happy day for her friends.

MRS. ISAAC REQUA IS DINNER HOSTESS.

Mrs. Isaac Requa was the hostess on Friday evening at an elaborate dinner given at her beautiful home, "Highlands," at Piedmont. As a dinner hostess Mrs. Requa leads the ranks, not only on our side of the bay, but anywhere else, for she personally plans every one of the details. The decorations of the table at Highlands are always most beautiful, planned and carried out by Mrs. Requa herself, and there is besides such a wonderful welcome for friends, such a spirit of generous, abounding hospitality, that a dinner at Highlands marks a happy occasion.

Mrs. Requa entertained a large din-girls just out this season were Miss Carmen Ghirardelli, Miss Adele Scott, and Miss Esther Sharon.

Miss Ghirardelli, who has charmed everybody this season by her sweet manners, wore her pretty debutante gown, and Miss Adele Scott, who is one of the most fascinating of the debutantes, wore a Parisian gown which was very colorful and most effective.

With Miss Scott, was her delightful Miss Florence Henshaw, who was one of the most stunning matrons at the reception. She wore a Parisian calling costume, with superb ornate turn, and her company, among them Mr. and Mrs. Fulton, who are old friends from Nevada. Mr. and Mrs. Jenny, Miss Jenny and Mr. Jenny Jr., who have recently come to Piedmont from New York, and Rev. and Mrs. Allen and Miss Helen Allen. There were present also Mrs. Requa's three very attractive daughters, Miss Amy Requa, Miss Amy Long and Miss Sally Long.

When You Lie Down to Sleep

By LILLIAN RUSSELL

(Copyright, 1912, by Lillian Russell)

A T least one-third of a normal person's life is spent in sleep. Under the old rule of eight hours for work, eight hours for play and four hours for rest, it would actually be one-third. We moderns don't observe that rule closely. Too many of us work more than the allotted eight hours, a great many of us play more than eight hours, but for us as it is, we may as well not foolish, fall to get eight hours' sleep out of the twenty-four.

But there are lots of us who don't know how to sleep. I don't mean that we don't possess the natural instinct to lie down and close our eyes and let nature do the rest. What I mean is, we Never lie on your left side when you go to bed. While you are sleeping your heart of course dare not rest, but if you lie on your left side the weight of your body presses down on that marvelous organ and actually gives it extra work to do, when it should

Children often enlarge the joints by pulling them to hear them "crack." This will enlarge the joints permanently. Massage with warm cocoanut butter will make the hands more plump and make the joints less noticeable. When massaging the fingers, massage each finger separately, rubbing the cocoanut butter into them gently.

AGNES: I do not believe in the harsh treatment of the throat and chin which is practiced by many. The following exercise is excellent for keeping the throat firm: All that you must do is to lift your head and blow at a bit of imaginary thistledown, keeping the chin in the air for about five minutes, supposing the thistledown to be first on one side and then at the other. Try this before your glass and see how it rounds out your neck and tightens the muscles. This exercise is also splendid for the parenthesis lines at the side of the mouth, as well as for beautifying the mouth itself.

MAUD: Your ailment is not a disease; it is nothing more than skin. If you would protect your face more before going out into the cold you would have so much trouble. A good greasy skin food or cold cream is what you need to supply the natural oil that is missing in your skin. Each night before retiring massage a good skin food into your skin and allow a portion of it to stay on all night to become absorbed in the skin. In the morning wash the face with warm water and a soap that agrees with your skin. Before going out into the cold wind again apply a cream to your face, allowing it to remain on for a few moments, then take the surplus cream off and put on a good face powder. It will not be necessary to massage your face all the time, just a few nights until you get your skin smooth.

ELLA: A little alcohol rubbed on the face will dry some of the oil. Don't use this too frequently, for you are liable to dry all the natural oil out of the skin. To dry a skin, one should use a good greasy skin food. The oils in the cream will supply the oil that is lacking in the skin.

FLOSSIE: If your tonsils swell frequently I would advise you to consult a good throat specialist. The tonsils should not affect the voice and when they do there is something wrong with them. I am sorry I cannot give you this advice. There is no way to make the EESIE R. —I cannot give you a cure for catarrh. You will have to consult your physician in regard to the matter. Catarrh may be the cause of an offensive breath. This is sometimes caused from internal troubles, throat troubles or imperfect teeth, and sometimes the cause is unknown. The following formula is good for an offensive breath: One grain boric acid, twenty-five grums boric acid, thirty drops of mutton, ten grains tincture of anise and three plums distilled water. Take half water and half wash, mix and use after each meal, or any time when necessary.

H. E.— Hangnails are painful and disagreeable. They usually come from improper manicuring. When the cuticle at the base of the nail is not kept pushed back and free from the nail it will become dry and split, then the skin will peel down and cause hangnails. The only way of preventing them is by keeping the nails properly manicured. Take a pair of small curved scissors and cut them as closely as possible, then apply a little peroxide of hydrogen. If you will send me a stamped, addressed envelope I shall send you instructions for manicuring.

HUNGRY GIRL ASKS WORK IN STOCKTON

STOCKTON: Jan. 10.—A San Francisco girl who declined to state her name, applied to the street department for work. "I can't do anything," said the girl. "But I will do anything to get money enough to eat."

She informed Commissioner O'Keefe that she had recently come from San Francisco, where it is next to impossible to get anything to do. Being unable to get work in Stockton, she went to the San Joaquin Armory headquarters and is being cared for by the charity workers.

Approximately 150 men have applied to the street department for work within the last two days. Married men will be given employment two or three days a week. The city, although refusing to support a free kitchen, as requested by social workers, is making every effort to aid the unemployed.

COLDS TO BE TAKEN SERIOUSLY.

Intelligent people realize that common colds should be treated promptly. If there is sneezing, with chilliness and hoarseness, tickling throat and coughing, the last especially annoying at bed time, use Foley's Honey and Tar Compound. It is effective, pleasant to take, checks a cold, stops the cough, etc.

FURIOUS UPRISING OF AFRICAN NATIVES FEARED

INTERVENTION IN MEXICO NECESSARY,
SAYS WHEELER, HOME FROM EUROPE

DECLARIES

University President, Back
From Trip, Tells Nation's Views.

Plans Medical College; Talks
of Philippine Situation;
Discusses Fair.

BERKELEY, Jan. 10.—President Benjamin Ide Wheeler, of the University of California, returned today from seven months abroad, deeply impressed with their several things.

The necessity of America doing something definite with regard to Mexico, and doing it soon; the folly of ever shrinking or granting independence to the Philippines, or even indirectly promising it to them; the immense importance of the 1915 exposition as a pageant; the great amount of progress England is making in the development of Egypt, and the importance of a medical school to be founded here on the Hooper million-dollar foundation.

President Wheeler returned in the best of health, anxious to resume his duties. In the party which arrived with him at Sixteenth street station, Oakland, this morning, were Mrs. Wheeler, Benjamin W. Wheeler, his son, Prof. Henry Morse Stephens, who accompanied him on the iron New York, Dr. David C. Barrows, acting president in his absence, who met him at Sacramento, and also journeying with him from the capital were Comptroller Ralph Merritt, Clara Torrey, his secretary, and others. He was met at Sixteenth street station by a distinguished party which included Regent Guy C. Earl, James Moffit, John A. Britton, Livingston Jenkins, Mrs. Charles Stetson Wheeler, Mrs. Montague, Mrs. Charles H. Barber, and Mrs. David P. Barrows. Benjamin W. Wheeler was also met by a number of his fraternity brothers.

SPEAKERS OF HOOPER COLLEGE.
President Wheeler commented upon his work in the Hooper medical college. He has conferred in the east with President Pritchett, of the Carnegie Institute, Mr. Simon Fraser, of the Rockefeller Institute, and Prof. Welch, of the Harvard University. These, with Dr. Herbert Mottatt, of the university medical school, and President Wheeler, composed the board of the proposed institution. President Wheeler arranged in New York for a meeting of all these directors here in February to perfect the plan of the great school.

Eastern medical men of the highest importance, declared Mr. Wheeler, "are greatly the worst that is about to be done on the Hooper foundation. They believe that this represents the effort of the West to gain medical importance. There is really no first-class medical college or equipment to be had in the West, and nothing to have the first."

Dr. Wheeler visited higher educational institutions of importance in the neighboring Boston, New York, and Baltimore. He eliminated that he had taken steps with regard to the filling of vacancies in the university faculty, but postponed any announcement of the man he had secured until after a meeting of the regents, to be held next Tuesday.

Dr. Wheeler commented at some length upon the Mexican situation. He had talked, he declared, with a number of well posted men while abroad, including such persons of importance as Lord Kitchener, of Khartoum, and a number of others.

LOOK TO AMERICA.

"There is a general feeling," declared Dr. Wheeler, "to be met with abroad, that America must be looked to handle the Mexican situation. The nations feel that the United States ought to do something in Mexico soon, or at least say what it proposes to do. In fact, no international entanglement may be expected from the United States taking a definite step in this direction. The foreign powers would be only too glad for America to handle what they consider a very pecky situation. They do not believe that America will overlook its duties in this regard. The general impression that I received was that America ought to stay out of Mexico if she can, but that she must not omit any step that will bring order out of chaos there."

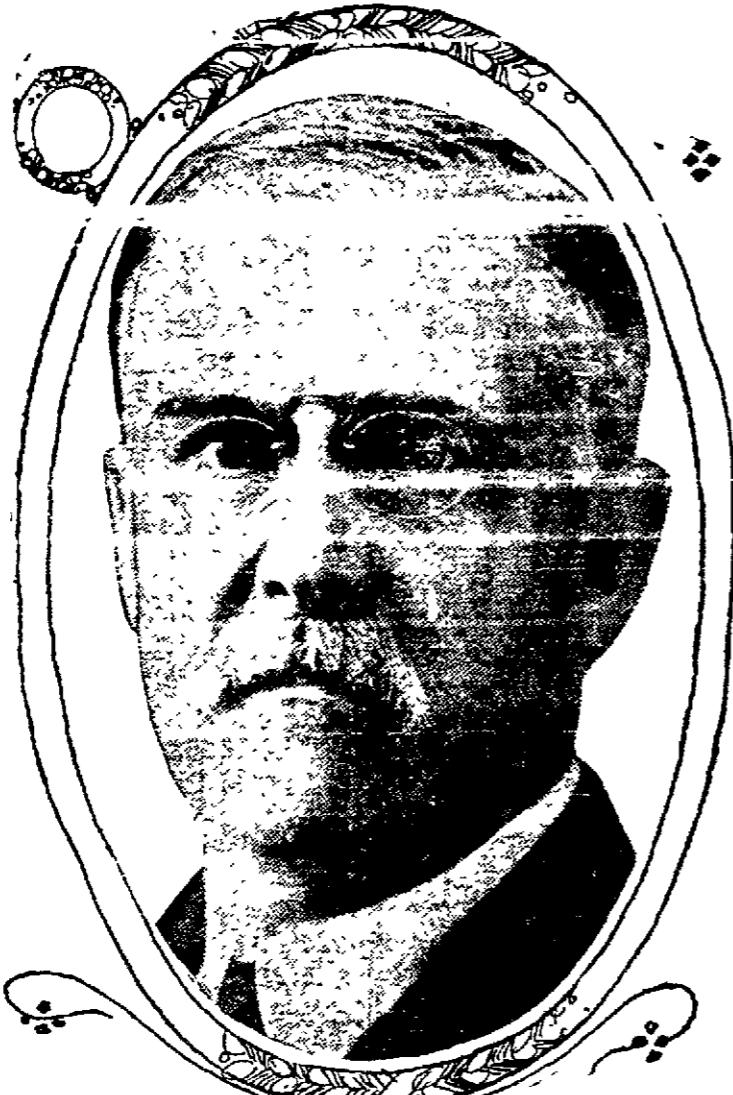

Doctor Wheeler commented at some length on the way in which England is conducting itself in Egypt. "Immense improvements are being instituted there," he declared. "In the improvement of Egyptian highways, irrigation and drainage systems.

"It has always seemed somewhat of a usurpation for England to be in Egypt, and yet you will not find many of the Egyptians who feel that way. Egypt is fond of England and grateful to the mother country for all that she is doing. The fellahs, who are the Egyptian farming class, and the masses in the cities as well, believe that England is really doing things for their advantage. There is no graft in English operations; another thing which is pleasing to the Egyptians, because Oriental nations seem unable to carry out such great work without corruption."

IS HINT FOR AMERICA.

"A noticeable thing in the Egyptian situation is that England does nothing at all in granting autonomy to the Egyptians. Therein she dictates the policy for this country with reference to the Philippines. Conditions in the Philippine Islands will grow better the less we talk of independence. This country will never leave the Philippines and it merely injures the Filipinos to intimate that we ever may. The great principle that England is teaching is that the great countries must be firm and not contentious when asked to do so."

With reference to the exposition, Doctor Wheeler declared that he had four people everywhere who were coming, even the dragonets, away up toward the head waters of the Nile. He believed

UNEMPLOYED QUIET; ANNA GOULD LOSES UNDER POLICE EYE APPEAL IN DIVORCE

Protest Against the Cold
Floors as Sleeping Quarters

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—The activity of the police this morning prevented any outbreak on the part of the agitators of the unemployed and things resumed to a certain extent their normal quietness. There was a general rumor, however, that the men were preparing to complain regarding the housing facilities provided for them. The cold snap which has been prevalent heretobore for several days has led some of the men to protest against the cold floors of the vacant stores and buildings to which they have been assigned for sleeping quarters. Some of them are asking for rooms and beds and said that the structures where they have been sleeping are not fit to live in.

Eastern medical men of the highest importance, declared Mr. Wheeler, "are greatly the worst that is about to be done on the Hooper foundation. They believe that this represents the effort of the West to gain medical importance. There is really no first-class medical college or equipment to be had in the West, and nothing to have the first."

Hot breakfasts were provided for all comers at the unemployed bureau as usual this morning. Many of those who patronized the soup kitchens attempted to hold a meeting afterward in the vicinity of Fifth and Howard streets, but were dispersed by the police. Chief White has ordered the vigilance of the police redoubled and three police stations are holding reserves in readiness in case of trouble.

S. P. MAY SELL OUT IMPERIAL PROPERTIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—President William Sproble of the Southern Pacific company returned yesterday from a visit to Los Angeles, where he has been in conference with regard to the sale of the company's Imperial Valley holdings, represented by shares in the California Development Company. Sproble said that the railroad company offers to take $2,000,000 in 5 per cent bonds for its holdings and that he expects negotiations to be satisfactorily concluded in the near future.

That German and English opposition to participate in the exposition, was due to their feeling against a merely commercial fair. As a pageant he believed that the exposition would be a tremendous success, and that England and Germany would assist.

"But surely as a display of machinery or tomorrows," declared the president, "it seems not to interest these foreign countries."

Doctor and Mrs. Wheeler and Benjamin Wheeler, Jr., left Berkeley seven months ago. They remained for some time in Germany, then went to Tyrol and then to Italy, where they spent three weeks at Lake Como at the Veladlo. They were in Greece during October and in Egypt during November, leaving Cairo for the continent on December 4.

Returning to this country, they sailed from Bremen, Germany, to New York, where they spent two weeks.

OFFICERS WILL NOT LOSE RANK

Philippines Non-Commissioned Men Favored by the Ruling.

Will Not Have to Become Privates in Re-enlisting in United States.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—Regulations which it is hoped will allay grievances of non-commissioned officers in the Philippines who have reached that rank in their own regiments, but who, if they should re-enlist in another regiment in the United States after their enlistment has expired in the Philippines would simply be privates are forthcoming from the war department, according to Secretary Garrison.

"We are going to correct this by regulations so as to continue the non-commissioned officers in regiments in this country," Secretary Garrison has informed Representative Anthony of Kansas. "Those who have been non-commissioned officers in the Philippines will be brought over here and attached as non-commissioned officers and their places taken by others. This does not require legislation. We are going to exchange sergeants."

As for the permanent stationing of regiments in the Philippines, Secretary Garrison says it is a saving of money to the government. "I do not think it is detrimental to the health of the men for their three years, or to the officers," he declared. "It saves travel and the permanent stationing of these regiments in the Philippines is saving money to the government."

BODIES OF VICTIMS OF TRAGEDY ARRIVE

Remains of Mrs. M. Cox and Daughter Reach
San Francisco

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 10.—There was a sad aftermath of the dreadful tragedy in Los Angeles in which W. M. Melton, an attorney of that city, was slain, together with Mrs. May Cox of San Francisco and her 12-year-old daughter Florence, when the bodies of the two last named reached here today. They were conveyed by James Graves and Mrs. Cox's aged mother met them at the Third and Townsend streets depot. The date for the funeral has not been definitely determined, but it is believed that it will be held on Monday morning and will be under the auspices of the Roman Catholic church. Mrs. N. M. Iverson of Point Arena, a sister of Mrs. Cox, arrived here today and Mrs. S. H. Cawell is en route from Illinois.

Anna Gould was married to Count Bonita Castellane in 1895 and obtained a divorce from him in 1906 through the civil courts of Paris. She married the present Duke de Talleyrand in London in 1908. In 1910 Count Boni applied to the Vatican to have his marriage to Anna Gould annulled, and on December 26, 1911, the application was rejected by the congregation of the council. In March, 1913, the Rota Tribunal, in Rome, reheard the case, with fresh evidence, and reversed the former decree, thereby granting the annulment to Count Boni. The Duchess de Talleyrand appealed to the Apostolic Segnatura Tribunal, which yesterday rejected her appeal. The annulment of her church marriage to Count Boni therefore stands for the present.

Zabern Regiment
Officers Acquitted

STRAßBURG, Germany, Jan. 10.—Colonel von Reuter and Lieutenant Schal of the Ninety-ninth Infantry regiment, were acquitted today by the court-martial which tried them on charges arising out of the violent incidents between the military and civilians at Babern, Alsace.

ASK ACCOUNTING OF CHRISTMAS TREE SALE

Fifteen hundred California fir trees, 200 cedar trees and 50 sugar pine trees brought from the mountains as Barker's share of the annual slaughter of the forests to contribute to the Merry Christmas festival were the cause of a law suit commenced today in the Superior Court through which Asa J. Brunk and W. J. Trumpl seek to collect $612.50 from W. H. Ross, a commission man who disposed of the trees. Plaintiffs allege that Ross has failed to make his accounting to them of the goods sold and may ask that the court require him to do so and for judgment in that amount.

"But surely as a display of machinery or tomorrows," declared the president, "it seems not to interest these foreign countries."

Dr. Lyman to Help All First Offenders After Doing Time'

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—Dr. John Grant Lyman, the Panama land promoter, who, in the United States District Court here received yesterday a penitentiary sentence of 15 months for having used the mails to defraud, announced today that upon the completion of his time to help first offenders. His efforts in that line, he said, would be in Los Angeles, where, before his arrest in 1911, he mingled in exclusive social and business circles, and where afterwards he was a prisoner for nearly two years in the county jail before he received his penitentiary sentence.

Lyman declared that a tract of 70 acres, within 75 miles of Los Angeles, already has been offered by a philanthropist for the purpose of reclaiming first offenders, and that he would do all in his power to further the work.

Lyman was sentenced by Judge Olin Wellborn to serve his term at San Quentin, but he asked that he be sent to the Arizona penitentiary at Florence instead, because of throat trouble. The request was referred to Washington authorities.

STRIKE-BREAKERS IMPORTED BY FORCE

Govt. Reports Use of Misrepresentation
and Arms

WASHINGTON, Jan. 10.—The report of the department of labor's investigation of the Michigan copper strike, made public here today, declares that strike-breakers were imported into the copper region by misrepresentations; that some were taken to the mines at the point of pistols, the strikers were wounded by firearms, and the miners were bound by armed guards, but that no evidence was found of officers being killed by the strikers.

It was pointed out that while many of the smaller copper mining companies in the region were operating at a loss, the Calumet & Hecla Company, which employs more than 50 per cent of the men in the region, had "had extremely large profits," with an authorized capital of $2,500,000, of which $1200 was paid in. The report declares that since 1871 the company has paid $121,050,000 in dividends and reinvested $75,000,000 in its property.

TELLS OF WELFARE WORK.

It pays wages for a ten to eleven-hour day ranging from $2.89 to $3.62 and with an average day wage of $3.28, while the average day wage of the other miners is $2.74. The report also points out the welfare work the company conducts for its employees, such as hospitals, a pension fund and the like.

The report was made on the investigations of Walter P. Palmer, a special agent of the department of labor; John A. Moffit and John B. Dennis, collectors for the department who were sent out to the copper region as conciliators.

BOSTON, Mass., Jan. 10.—A new opinion as to the merits of the policy of compulsory teaching of English among the Filipinos developed last night between former President Taft and Dr. Charles W. Eliot of Harvard. They were guests at a banquet given by the Harvard Club to W. Cameron Forbes, who until recently was governor-general of the Philippines.

After Dr. Eliot had said he was doubtful of the value of the plan, Mr. Taft remarked that he was responsible for the policy in the Philippines for thirteen years as governor-general, secretary of war and as president of the United States. Compulsory teaching of English was necessary, he said, because twelve or thirteen dialects were spoken, none of any great value.

The natives are eager to learn English and today English is spoken more than Spanish, the language which it has supplanted.

East to Copy Coast in Effort to Wrest Lawn Tennis Supremacy

NEW YORK EVOLVES PLAN TO DEVELOP A FEW MCLOUGHINS

Catch 'Em-While-Young-and-Train-'Em Campaign to Be Waged.

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Lawn tennis players will be caught in early youth and trained to be the McLoughlins of the future, according to the plan voted on last night at the annual meeting of the West Side Tennis Club. The members favored the suggestion of the National Association that the club open the way for at least 200 junior members to join.

The boys will be developed so that the counters of the East may reach that point of skill where they may compete against the wonderful young wielders of the western coast. The plan is the first move ever made in the section of the country to provide for the young beginners of the game.

The West Side Club will make an application for the Davis cup international matches on its new courts at Forest Hills, Long Island and expects to get the right.

The preliminary match for this famous trophy, it is stated, will be played in cities outside of New York, with Boston, Philadelphia and Chicago as the most likely to be selected.

DAUBERT HAS CONTRACT FEDERALS WILL NOT TEMPT HIM

Gilmore Says He's Boss and Outlaw Managers Must Obey Mandate.

CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—Because he is under contract there is no possibility of Jake Daubert, first baseman of the Brooklyn National League Club being signed by the Pittsburgh Club of the Federal League, according to James A. Gilmore, president of the Federal League.

Reports from New York last night stated that Daubert had been offered a berth with the Pittsburgh Club at a salary of $20,000 for three years.

"My statement that no contract players will be signed by the Federal League stands," said President Gilmore, "I have no objection to our managers going after players who are not under contract by the reserve clause, but as to signing a contract player, that is a different matter."

"All managers of the Federal League look first to us for orders and I must stand by my contracts, they sign; and if we have signed a player, who is under contract, we immediately refuse to accept such a contract. As soon as a manager learns that a player is under contract, he must drop all negotiations with him."

Among the big leagues to whom our men have just been offered are: "Rabbit" Maranville of Boston, Dick Hobbs, first baseman of the Cincinnati club; Vic Seiter, first baseman of the Chicago Cubs, and others.

Organized baseball magnates are gasping in the last today for the result of news that the Federals have signed four more noted players. They are Gene Packard, a pitcher of the Cincinnati Nationals; Jimmie Egan, pitcher; and William Miller of the Philadelphia Nationals, and Leonidas "King" Cole, pitcher for the New York Nationals. They signed for three years, it was announced.

OAKLAND CLUB WILL SEND OUT ITS CONTRACTS MONDAY

Harr Hogan has decided that he has not much use for a ball player who won't play on Sunday, and in consequence, is looking about for a chance to trade George Charles Sterrett. Sterrett would have to be paid his first base if he would consent to chase the pill on the Sabbath. He paid $1,500 for the former collegian.

Umpires Finney, McCaffrey, Held, Guthrie, Payne and Gerald Hayes have been given contracts by President Al Baum. Hayes is the only new one and he has been secured from the International League to fill the place of the rough Mr. Bush.

Zirah (Rip) Hagerman is now the property of the Cleveland American League team, according to an announcement from President McAdoo, who paid the right-hander $2,500 and will get another pitcher from Cleveland later in the season.

Included in the contracts that have been sent out to the San Francisco clubs are offers to Pitcher Frank Butler, Miller, Pfeifer, Conroy, George of Lemmons, and Pitcher Jess Norman of Tenn. All three players have been under contract to the club, but declined to report last season.

The Oakland club will send out its contracts Monday, that is, it will send out fifteen documents. Eleven members of the squad including most of the regulars, are already signed. No uncertainty is expected over terms this year.

WESTERN LEAGUE FANS WILL BE BOOSTING FOR OAKS

Never a Player Came West With More Well Wishers Than Middleton.

By BILLY FITZ.

Fans throughout the Western League Circuit, and particularly in the vicinity of Wichita, Kansas, will be pulling for the Oaks next season—the Oaks and Roxy Middleton. It is seldom that a player ever leaves a league carrying so many well wishes as Roxy has done. The outfielder, drafted by the Oaks, seems to be an idol in Wichita, judging from the way his friends amongst the sporting writers are boosting him.

Middleton has been with the Wichita six years and has been terror to opposing pitchers most of that time. Last year he led the league in punching the ball, hitting .370, in recognition of which he was presented with a cold bat and a few other "trinkets." He could have had the city hall if he had asked for it.

The explanation of why Middleton has been passed up by his league scouts, and why the Western League fans particularly in Wichita, believe he will still get there, is offered by the baseball expert of Wichita Beacon, who writes as follows:

"I don't like to say it, but unless bad luck should happen to befoul him, Roxy had been with the Wichita club so long that interfered with his chances of becoming. Other clubs of higher classification undoubtedly had heard of him, but they feared that something must be wrong with him, else he never would have stayed here so long. For seven years he has played on the same bases, six of them in Wichita, and ever since he came here he has delivered the goods with the best in the circuit. He is a veteran in this class, and yet but a young man, for he played his first ball when he was 16 years old—so you can see why out of his 'fans'—KNOCKED UNINTENTIONALLY."

"His worst enemies were his best friends, the baseball writers of the Western League. There wasn't one of them who didn't like him, and one who didn't delight in handing him bouquets. But along with these bouquets, they almost always unintentionally hampered him a knock that kept him from getting into trial in major league company. This is the reason why he failed to find a home in health and strength, and was hammered on it so consistently that the major league scouts stopped only to admire his work, then passed him on to one whom they couldn't afford to take on, on whom they couldn't afford to take off of it. Middleton's record for seven years past will show that he played in as many games as any of them, and that his health must have been good and his constitution O. K. else he could not have piled up the records he did. He honestly earned during his long service with the Oaks, and he is the consensus of opinion that it will be a fight to finish at the end of the season between the Thistles and Pastimes for the lead.

"But his appearance seemed to prove the statement, and the fact that he had surrounded himself in Denver and suffered from the effects of the high altitude—one of the reasons he continued. Yet other players in the Western League have suffered the same things. Middleton did not "fall in faint" in Denver, and Omaha, rapidly recently stated, nor did he have to quit a game while playing there, so many games he did. He was affected no more than many others have been, and not as badly as he almost always did in the beginning of his career.

"Willie Johnson has won the tennis championship of the Philippines and the natives are now singing: 'Damn, damn, damn the Melicanor.'

New York plans to catch young tennis players while they're young and train them to be the McLoughlins of the future, but they will have to battle up California climate as well.

News that Devereaux Milburn will be with the United States polo team this year will probably cause great interest on the London Strand.

Needy May Buy at Cost From Municipal Store

(By Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Jan. 10.—A municipal "general store," at which persons with limited funds may purchase the necessities of life, probably will be established in Chicago in the near future. The city council finance committee yesterday set aside $25,000 in the city's 1914 budget for the "unemployed commission," which will have charge of the city store.

Only persons vouched for by the county agent will be permitted to purchase goods at the proposed store. Merchandise and food will be sold at cost plus operating expenses.

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 10.—W. H. Holbrook, receiver of the California Dredging Company, Los Angeles, today said saying he had been approached by Sir Alfred Moseley, said to be one of England's wealthiest men, with a proposition involving the settlement of the irrigation question in the Imperial Valley.

Sir Alfred proposed according to Holbrook to step in, settle the claims of the Southern Pacific railroad and other creditors of the development company and operate the great irrigation system in Imperial Valley as a private enterprise.

It was said, however, that the British capitalist's proposition would only be considered in event the present plans of the people of Imperial Valley looking to a co-operative irrigation system failed to materialize.

MEN WHO SAVED 13 LIVES ARE HONORED

NEW YORK, Jan. 10.—Officers and men of the Booth Liner Gregory and the Hamburg-American freighter Bavaria, who rescued, respectively, five and eight members of the crew of the oil tank steamer Oklahoma, received tribute last night for the heroic work done by them. The men of the Gregory were entertained at a dinner given in their honor by the New York Press Club, while the seven officers and men of the Bavaria were presented with $1000 by the Gulf Refining Company, owners of the ship.

The work of pumping mud into Wilson Park and the marsh land in that vicinity is expected to take about two months, after which the dredger may be moved up into the turning basin in front of the yard, so as to give the municipality a chance to have the bulkhead constructed.

ENGINEER SOON TO COMPLETE GRADE WORK

SCENIC ROUTE PLANNED BY FOREST SERVICE

FRESNO, Jan. 10.—The forest service, the county and the Sierra Club will co-operate in the building of a trail into Paradise Valley, in accordance with an agreement entered into today by the Board of Supervisors and a Federal officer.

Paradise Valley is a district of great scenic attraction on the summit of the Sierra which it hitherto has been possible to reach by pack train only by circuitous route through this into the county, coming into it from the east. By the expenditure of a few thousand dollars a road will be cut through a solid granite wall, reducing the trip by some hundred miles. Paradise Valley is also known as Grouse Valley. The streams have been diverted by the state water power authority.

ESTIMATORS VISIT TUG.

VALLEJO, Jan. 10.—The Mare Island estimators visited the Yerba Buena and Castro today and will make a report of their survey next week. It is stated that the tug is not in need of extensive repairs, but the necessary work to place the craft in first-class shape will keep her at the local naval station for nearly a month.

VALLEJO, Jan. 10.—Warrant Machinist F. F. Webster, U. S. N., a former member of the crew of the United States steamer Stewart, who recently passed the examination for warrant machinist in the navy, was presented with a handsome sword by the officers and crew of the Stewart last evening. VALLY FARMERS START FIGHT TO SAVE WATER

FRESNO, Jan. 10.—The committee of thirty named by the newly formed Kings River Water Users' Association to lay plans for the conservation of the water of the river used in Fresno, Tulare and Kings counties yesterday telegraphed to the secretary of the interior asking that he refuse to grant any further concessions of any sort within the national forests, that drain into the Kings river, until this quasi public body should have an opportunity to perfect its plan for the community use of the water. A sub-committee of six was named to draw up definite engineering and financial plans for the conserving of the water and the support of a series of irrigation districts to cover the entire basin.

FORMER MRS. ERB IS GRANTED A DIVORCE

OMAHA, Jan. 10.—Mrs. Margaret Erb, whose first husband was J. Clayton Erb, a Philadelphia millionaire, for whose murder she was tried and acquitted five years ago, has been granted a divorce from Francis J. Elliott.

Mrs. Elliott was a nurse in the Erb family when her mistress died. Later she was married to Erb, but a separation occurred within a short time. Mrs. Erb and her sister met Erb in the grounds of the fifth country home, where during a quarrel between them, Erb was killed a year ago, and his trial and acquittal created a sensation.

The woman was Elliott's third wife. Since her acquisition in Philadelphia, she has been working as a nurse at Clarkson Hospital under the name of Margaret Conway. She married Elliott in Dec. 1893.

PADEREWSKI REFUSES TO PLAY AT PORTLAND

PORLTAND, Ore., Jan. 10.—Although he had been ill in advance and arrived here yesterday, Paderewski, the pianist, gave a recital last night. The pianist's reason for his absence was that the advance sale of seats was not sufficiently heavy to justify his appearance.

He declared that Paderewski could only do himself justice when playing before a crowded house.

A guarantee of $2500 had been made for the Portland concert, and the local managers declared they would make good, but Paderewski remained obtuse, and money was refunded to buyers of the gunboat Annapolis.
